

Romaco is Investing and Growing in North America

(Romaco-North America's new headquarters in Hamilton NJ)

CEO Charlie Ravalli has over 25 years of packaging machinery experience, and has developed numerous brands to leading positions in the North American market. His mission at Romaco is to redefine sales and service for its customers. The group has invested significantly in a new facility and inventory of new machines and spares, committed to a long term mutually beneficial partnership with its suppliers and customers alike..

With a new facility in Hamilton New Jersey, Charlie has hand-picked packaging industry sales and service experts to integrate with his already established Killian tablet press team to expand local market capacities.

The Romaco tableting and packing product lines consist of Killian, Siebler, Noack, Macofar, Promatic, Unipac and Bosspak.
